HOTEL AND SPA

WINE LIST

Introduction

Danesfield House Hotel and Spa Wine Programme

At Danesfield House Hotel and Spa we have created a comprehensive wine list of almost 200 wines encapsulating a diverse range of countries and grape varieties. This year our list has changed according to the wine world and our guests' expectations. We believe it is important to offer new rising star wines in addition to the more traditional wines.

With our selection of wines we aim to offer our guests something different and unique to taste.

The format of the wine list is laid out with wines listed by country. We of course cover the classic regions such as Bordeaux, Champagne, Burgundy, Tuscany and Rioja from the old world plus a wide selection of new world. 2018 sees us exploring interesting and indigenous varieties such as Malagusia from Greece, Kalacik Karasi from Turkey, Albariño from Spain, Grüner Veltliner from Austria, Torrontés from Argentina and Carmenère from Chile.

We are very happy to recommend matching wines according to our menus produced by our chef Billy Reid with his style of cooking.

THE HISTORY OF DANESFIELD HOUSE

Danesfield House, as it stands today, is the third property to have been built within this glorious setting, amidst 65 acres of formal gardens with outstanding views over the River Thames and to the Chiltern Hills beyond.

4,000 years ago, the site was reputed to have been a resting place of nomadic tribes who paused to hunt nearby land and fish in the then untamed river. If you stand on the crest of the bank between the present house and the river and look west, there is a steep ravine directly in front of you which is the remnant of the ramparts of a pre-historic fortification. Because of the ample game and the discovery of flint within the chalk-based cliffs, the site became a settlement throughout the ages and although not named "Danesfield" until many years later, this name originated from the fact that Danish adventurers made an encampment here.

In 1725 James Medlycott, or his executors, rented "Medlycotts" to a Mrs Morton, whose son John was to be the creator of Danesfield. He purchased the freehold of the estate in 1750, had the house completely rebuilt and named it Danesfield. John Morton was a barrister and was appointed Attorney-General to Queen Charlotte. He was a contemporary in parliament of William Pitt, as MP for Abingdon, New Romney and Wigan. After his death, his widow continued to live at Danesfield for some years, but eventually sold the estate in 1787 because of financial difficulties.

The house was let to successive tenants, who came principally for shooting and was eventually sold in 1897 to Mr Robert William Hudson. He had inherited his fortune from his father Robert Spear Hudson, the Victorian soap magnate and the manufacturer of "Sunlight" soap. His first determination was to rebuild the property, which he completed in 1901.

As war proceeded Danesfield was requisitioned as a base to develop the intelligence Section of the Royal Air Force (Reconnaissance and Photography Section). Danesfield was purchased by the Air Ministry in 1948 and was made Divisional Head Quarters for No. 90 Group (Signals). The property remained in the hands of the RAF until 1977.

The gardens, a mixture of herbaceous and shrub plants ensures interest throughout the year. The large areas of Lavender that can be seen consist of two main varieties; "Vera" surrounded by "Twickle Purple" with five other varieties of English and French origin. The Topiary and the Box Hedging is original and has been restored and maintained by careful, skilled trimming. With the exception of a few original shrubs (Wisteria and Choisya), the majority of the present planting was carried out during 1990.

Danesfield House Hotel opened on the 1st July 1991 as a luxury Country House Hotel with a charm and character that cannot be compared. It is a property with a most unusual history and when walking around the grounds it is easy to imagine the strange events that must have taken place over the centuries.
