

DANESFIELD HOUSE
HOTEL AND SPA

Introduction

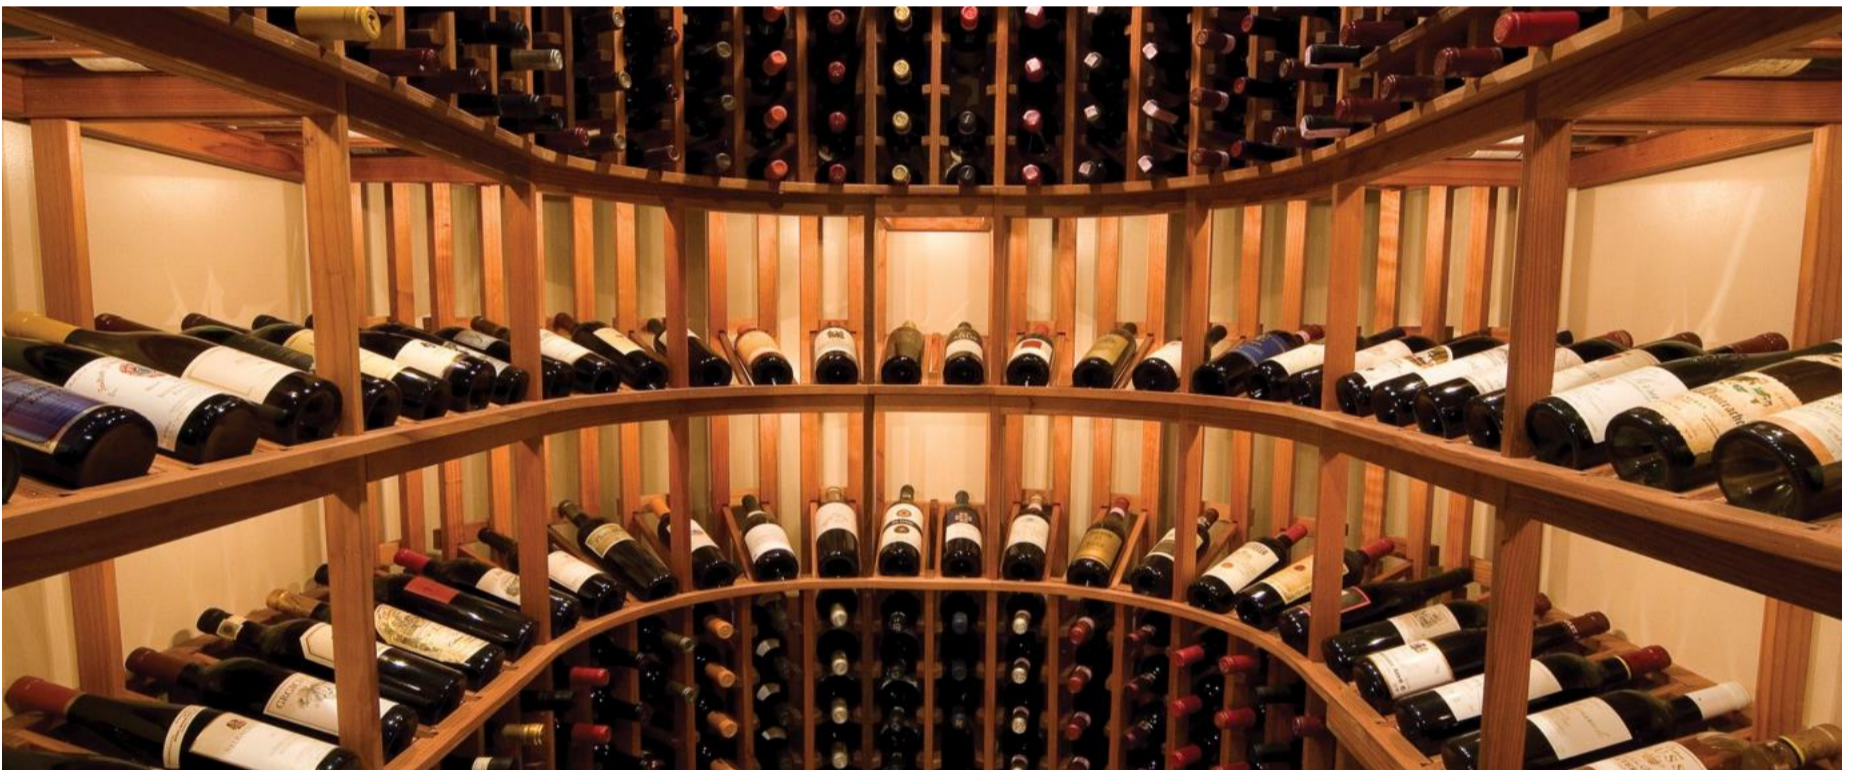

Danesfield House Hotel and Spa Wine Programme

At Danesfield House Hotel and Spa we have created a comprehensive wine list of almost 200 wines encapsulating a diverse range of countries and grape varieties. This year our list has changed according to the wine world and our guests' expectations. We believe it is important to offer new rising star wines in addition to the more traditional wines.

With our selection of wines we aim to offer our guests something different and unique to taste.

The format of the wine list is laid out with wines listed by country. We of course cover the classic regions such as Bordeaux, Champagne, Burgundy, Tuscany and Rioja from the old world plus a wide selection of new world. 2017 sees us exploring interesting and indigenous varieties such as Malagusia from Greece, Kalacik Karasi from Turkey, Ribolla Gialla from Italy, Albariño from Spain, Grüner Veltliner from Austria, Pinot Noir from Santa Barbara and Carmenère from Chile.

We are very happy to recommend matching wines according to our menus produced by our chef Billy Reid with his style of cooking.

THE HISTORY OF DANESFIELD HOUSE

Danesfield House, as it stands today, is the third property to have been built within this glorious setting, amidst 65 acres of formal gardens with outstanding views over the River Thames and to the Chiltern Hills beyond.

4,000 years ago, the site was reputed to have been a resting place of nomadic tribes who paused to hunt nearby land and fish in the then untamed river. If you stand on the crest of the bank between the present house and the river and look west, there is a steep ravine directly in front of you which is the remnant of the ramparts of a pre-historic fortification. Because of the ample game and the discovery of flint within the chalk-based cliffs, the site became a settlement throughout the ages and although not named "Danesfield" until many years later, this name originated from the fact that Danish adventurers made an encampment here.

In 1725 James Medlycott, or his executors, rented "Medlycotts" to a Mrs Morton, whose son John was to be the creator of Danesfield. He purchased the freehold of the estate in 1750, had the house completely rebuilt and named it Danesfield. John Morton was a barrister and was appointed Attorney-General to Queen Charlotte. He was a contemporary in parliament of William Pitt, as MP for Abingdon, New Romney and Wigan. After his death, his widow continued to live at Danesfield for some years, but eventually sold the estate in 1787 because of financial difficulties.

The house was let to successive tenants, who came principally for shooting and was eventually sold in 1897 to Mr Robert William Hudson. He had inherited his fortune from his father Robert Spear Hudson, the Victorian soap magnate and the manufacturer of "Sunlight" soap. His first determination was to rebuild the property, which he completed in 1901.

As war proceeded Danesfield was requisitioned as a base to develop the intelligence Section of the Royal Air Force (Reconnaissance and Photography Section). Danesfield was purchased by the Air Ministry in 1948 and was made Divisional Head Quarters for No. 90 Group (Signals). The property remained in the hands of the RAF until 1977.

The gardens, a mixture of herbaceous and shrub plants ensures interest throughout the year. The large areas of Lavender that can be seen consist of two main varieties; "Vera" surrounded by "Twickle Purple" with five other varieties of English and French origin. The Topiary and the Box Hedging is original and has been restored and maintained by careful, skilled trimming. With the exception of a few original shrubs (Wisteria and Choisya), the majority of the present planting was carried out during 1990.

Danesfield House Hotel opened on the 1st July 1991 as a luxury Country House Hotel with a charm and character that cannot be compared. It is a property with a most unusual history and when walking around the grounds it is easy to imagine the strange events that must have taken place over the centuries.

Carpènè Malvolti 1868 Brut Conegliano Valdobbiadene Prosecco Superiore

A real benchmark of quality and consistency, Carpènè Malvolti Prosecco is a full flavoured wine made in the North-East Italy. This lovely Prosecco has impressive palate weight and creaminess, fine and continuous bubbles. The wine is fruity and appealing with floral and fresh fruit bouquet and a lemony finish.

Carpènè Malvolti 1868 Rosé Cuvee Brut NV Italy

Yum yum yum. This delicious fizz has everything that's great about Prosecco combined with everything that's great about a Provence Rose. It has depth, whilst retaining freshness and that fabulous palate cleansing sensation that good fizz delivers. The spectrum of flavours is really broad, with redcurrants, rosehips, parma violets and just a touch of slightly creamy, sweet cherries. The finish is fairly long, but again, really fresh with none of the edges sometimes found in cheaper sparkling wines.

Here the wood is less subtle as there are vanilla and toast hints in evidence on the otherwise very fresh and cool aromas of white flowers, pear, green apple and wet stone. There is notably good concentration and plenty of palate coating dry extract to the big-bodied flavours that exude a fine minerality on the saline-infused, explosive and seriously persistent finish.

"Tros Blanc 2013 is a hugely complex wine. Made from 100% Garnacha Blanca grapes grown in a single vineyard, this is a wine with great potential, as it will only get better with some cellar ageing. Beautiful, distinctive aromas of green apple and citrus are in perfect harmony with the lovely oak hints of vanilla and cream. It has developed a nice, smooth mouthfeel after spending 10 months in new oak barrels. Hints of roasted nuts and coffee make the finish amazingly memorable. Voted the best white wine in Cataluña and 2nd best white in Spain "

Grüner Veltliner, Rosensteig, Weingut Geyerhof, Kremstal

An Austrian staple; this is an unmissable Gruner Veltliner from Geyerhof. Lush fruity aromas of green apples, waxed lemons, juicy grapefruit and gently white pepper hints. Weingut Geyerhof owners, Josef and Ilse Maier grow their grapes organically and all their wines are vegan and contain low-histamine levels. Delicious herbaceous and mineral notes in the finish.

In Izmir (150 metres of elevation) climate conditions are close to those of Bari or Athens. In the Anatolian plateau (900 metres of elevation), climate conditions are similar to the Rhône valley (Hermitage, Chateauneuf du Pape) but drier during the summer. On both sites, soils are unique with a complex distribution, alternation of chalk and shale (heavy clay) and occurrence of limestone.

Sauvignon Blanc, Mount Beautiful, North Canterbury

This Sauvignon Blanc pushes the boundaries of the typical New Zealand flavour profile. By highlighting floral aromatics and tropical flavours, toning down the grassiness and bringing a creamy mid-palate all the way through to fresh cantaloupe melon like crispness on the finish, Mt Beautiful have set a new precedent for New Zealand Sauvignon Blanc.

The Clos Jus is a class act, intense and spicy with great length and a nice mineral finish. Concentrated black fruit with herbal notes and good minerality. Very pure and with good weight to balance the bright acidity. This is very fresh and bright wine with good length. Very drinkable.

Châteauneuf du Pape 'Les Safres', Domaine Clos du Caillou

This wine presents a deep red colour with blood reflection. The nose is dominated by aromas of zinfandel in the violet, associated to the Pyrenees black cherry jam. The mouth is unctuous, elegant, on liqueur perfume of strawberry and raspberry, accompanied by some notes of soft spices (Colombo) and orange zest. This wine possesses a beautiful aromatic length.

Domaine de Cigalus Rouge, Gérard Bertrand, IGP Pays d'Oc

Intense and complex with a very aromatic nose of ripe black fruit, jam, spice, liquorice and truffle. The palate is lush, and full of rich, black fruits, with a touch of mint and backed by velvety tannins, leading to a long, perfectly balanced finish. Biodynamically grown Cabernet Sauvignon 40%, Merlot 20%, Carignan 5%, Grenache 5%.

La Forge, Gérard Bertrand, AOP Corbières Boutenac

Deep matured cherry colour, an explosive nose opens onto grilled toast spices and clove. With a sugar rush, the palate reveals powerful and elegant aromas, reminiscent of cooked red fruits. This is an exceptional wine with soft tannins and a spicy aftertaste. Carignan 50%, Syrah 50%.

Somni Priorat, Alfredo Arribas, Clos Del Portal

"The Somni Priorat is made from Carignan, Syrah, ...organically grown grapes on Licorella slate. Packed with colour - intense violet and bluish tones - and is as expected a very dense and concentrated full-bodied red. There is a bouquet of wild plums and blackberries; some cassis and an overall freshness that keeps you wanting more. A touch of oak and spice lingers in the background. The palate is velvety and the oak is well integrated with the abundant fruit. Silky mature tannins contribute to the long decadent finish. A tasty drop indeed; one to be remembered"

Pinot Noir, Melville Family Vineyards, Santa Barbara County 2013

One of the best values in Pinot Noir out there is Melville's 2013 Pinot Noir Estate and it over-delivers in just about every vintage. Firing on all cylinders on this occasion, with complex red fruits, rose petal and sous bois aromas and flavours all soaring from the glass, it's medium-bodied, ripe and expansive, with lots of character, integrated crispness and a clean, nicely focused finish.

Cabernet Franc Icewine, Peller Estates, Niagara Peninsula, Canada 2013 37.5cl

This unique dessert wine has been made in extremely limited quantities by allowing fully ripened grapes to freeze on the vines and harvesting them in temperatures of -10 degrees. Each frozen grape is then pressed producing just one drop of extremely concentrated juice. This is an extremely complex wine with flavours of red currants and rhubarb with notes of spice and beautifully balanced acidity and sweetness.

Aperitif Noix du Pays d'Oc (Walnuts), Laurent Cazottes 50cl

This digestif/aperitif is made from red wine infused with green walnuts. The result which would be perfect served with a cheese platter or bitter chocolate, shows sweet raisin, prune, coffee and walnut flavours. The sweetness is tempered by a welcome twist of astringent bitterness on the finish, which then resolves into a sweetly nutty length.
